MEMORIES

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I am a guest in the state of Michigan, in which I was born, I have been visiting familiar haunts, some of them little changed since the time that I was a boy among them. A few miles from where I now write is the farm I worked on as the only hired hand. They were Entered at the Postoffice at Gettys- days of great happiness, for I worked for a most intelligent farmer who taught me much that I failed later to find in books.

A friend called and took me for a One Month (By Carrier) _ 70 Cents ride into this golden-clothed au-$2.00 tumn. I couldn't well concentrate, 4.00 however, on the beautiful homes, $7.50 hills, and perfect highways, for my Five Cents thoughts were on that little farm where so much new life for me was born. We would get up before daybreak and feed the stock, then breakfast, then go to the fields. For days I would plough corn with a team of horses, back and forth. I drove to the little village where my father at one time preached, and where I was the janitor of the church. The old home looked quite the same, but the barn that I had painted red several times was gone. So was the garden that I used to loween Parade Here: While several help plant and hoe. Dickinson-Bullet Game Here Saturday Winds Up Series; Special Pre-Game Program

One of the biggest problems confronting the Gettysburg College football squad which tangles with Dickinson here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the annual Father's Day game will be that produced by overconfidence and a subsequent let-down in spirit and hustle

Up until the present time Coaches Johnny Yovicsin and Jack Shainline have had little difficulty in firing up their charges for their weekend chores but this week both lads are admittedly worried. While the Bullets have been whizzing past five straight opponents after dropping their opener, the Red Devils of Dickinson have been encountering plenty of trouble against weaker opponents and have won but two while losing three. All of which adds up to make the Bullets a heavy favorite.

Unbeaten Bullet Freshmen Whip Bisons 32-12 Before Slim Fire Co. Benefit Crowd

Gettysburg College's undefeated freshman football team captured its third straight win by crushing the Bucknell frosh 32-12 Thursday evening on the Gettysburg High School field. It was the seventh straight over a two-year span for the Bullets.

Bitter cold weather kept the crowd to less than 1,000 spectators and only a handful braved the frigid temperature during the second half The turnout was disappointing but understandable to the Gettysburg firemen who sponsored the contest as a means of raising money for heir apparatus fund.

Coach Jim Lentz's powerhouse lost little time in assuming a fool-proof, ead. After receiving the opening kickoff, the Bullets staged an uninterrupted 80-yard march for a score. Sparked by the running of Lebo, the Bullets ran and smashed for four straight first downs, the last of which was a 26-yard scamper around left end by Lebo which put the ball on the 1-yard line. For the splendid vote given our candidates at the General Election Tuesday, November 3. It was through your efforts that the entire Republican ticket was elected.

The vote was most gratifying and each and every man elected pledges himself to execute the duties of his office to the best of his ability and to the best advantage of every man, woman and child of Adams County, regardless of party affiliations.

And thanks to the loyal efforts of our COM-MITTEE MEMBERS AND WORKERS in manning the polls and assisting the voters in getting to the polls.

Resting—After a Long, Hard Day!

Twenty minutes ago, the man you see in this picture came out of a long and harassing conference-tired, tense and with a bit

And he said to himself-"I'll take the long way home, and drive out by the waterfront, and let the Cadillac relax me!"

And that's just what he's doing.

If you own a 1953 Cadillac, you know exactly what's taking place. But if you don't-let's see what happens as he climbs into the driver's seat and lets his wonderful car begin its magic.

It's relaxing just to look over that long, beautiful hood into the beckoning distance.

The seat cushions hold him in buoyant comfort; the slender wheel fits naturally into his hands; great areas of glass surround him and let each glance reveal a panorama.

And, of course, he's proud and happyfor it's an endless satisfaction to own and command such a respected possession.

And now comes the great lift to his spirits: He touches the key, and hears that deep-throated response so characteristic of a Cadillac engine—and, in an instant, he's off for a wonderful, wonderful hour!

Steering is no more than a gesture . . . the lightest touch on the throttle gets immediate action-smooth, quick, positive . . . the brakes are easy and certain under his foot.

So he just sits back and rolls along-with the soft sound of the wind for a lullabyand the beautiful view for a tonic-resting, relaxing, at peace with the world!

His wife will never suspect, as he wheels into the driveway, that he was a tired and tense and weary husband just one short hour ago.

That's one of the nicest things about a Cadillac. It's a proven therapeutic for a work-weary man!

Try it, soon, at the end of a long, hard day. We'll furnish the car. You name the time and place.

failed. They sold their possessions and placed the proceeds in a common treasury. In this way all could be promptly helped as their need appeared. The plan did not succeed and was given up. But the spirit was admirable and prevailed.

Introduced Charity

The early church introduced the practice of charity to the wonder of the pagan world. Philanthropy got its start in the early church and has been a feature of Christianity ever since.

The growth in membership is a natural part of the program of any church. So is Christian instruction. especially of the young and the unchurched. Another objective is the growth in grace of the church's members and all the while there should be a vigilance against besetting sin. But any live congregation will see opportunities for service beyond its membership. The social aspects of Christianity are increasingly recognized. Environment is a factor in building character and that leads us to examine in which the church serves. What is the atmosphere like? What sort of influences are present for good make a community more wholesome? To preach the gospel fearlessly as both Peter and Paul constantly urged is essential but there is work to be done.

At a great university taverns were operating right up to the campus. A crusade led by church people in several campaigns removed the tempting liquor dispensaries from the immediate student quarters. Then there are constructive measures to be taken to deal with problems that affect community life. Service clubs have rendered effective services which no church alone could give. In any up-and-coming community organizations are formed to aid in promoting needed reforms, or planting guideposts pointing to a better common life. Church people, alert to opportunities for service, can hope that things might be different slowed down. soon. In less than a year the Russians have made a full turn of the wheel. The world is where it was when Stalin died.

The Kremlin put it there by re-buffing the West's bid for a foreign ministers conference. Where the world was and is can be said simply: two armed camps, more arming ahead, no peace in sight. What the Western nations were slow in seeing was that it is in the nature of a wolf to be earnest that what Stalin wanted was fresh meat and they were it.

When they finally saw it, they formed an alliance against Stalin, which was what he didn't want. By sweet-talk tactics Stalin might have deluded the West and split the alliance, perhaps softened Western Europe for a crushing blow of his paw later.

Helped Korean War Stalin did the opposite-he let Korea happen-possibly because he had contempt for anything the lieve he could be wrong.

Hood, president of U. S. Steel, inhad been placed in full scale opera-

Hood told the annual dinner of to Morrisville.

In his speech, Hood said private funds should not be contributed to a public development.

He was referring to a suggestion from the Army Engineers that U. S. Steel and others share the cost of a project to deepen the Delaware River channel.

"In our form of government, public and private funds should not be co-mingled to finance an improvement project belonging unqualifiedly to the public-and open, without discrimination to all who respect laws and regulations governing its use."

The channel is needed for navigation purposes because of the increased travel of tugs and barges anticipated with the beginning of production at the Morrisville plant. The plant is situated on the river directly opposite Trenton, N. J.

Radiation Did Not

Bomb Casualty Commission reports little or no harmful effect was found in Japanese children born after their parents were exposed to atomic bomb radiation.

But the commission left open the question of whether harmful effects might show up in future generations.

Its report, made public yesterday, analyzed births between 1948 and 1952, including some to parents who had been exposed to atomic radiation in America's wartime bombing of Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

It traced no significant changes in stillbirths, malformations, weight any operation of government at birth or sex of child to exposure which places a barrier in the way

Thursday morning at 5:30 o'clock a tractor-trailer smashed into the concrete stone washer at the Bethlehem Quarries three miles north of Hanover, causing $5,000 damage.

Police said Gilbert Spotts, 30, Elizabethtown, was headed north when he saw a flagman halting cars where the railroad spur crosses the road at the quarry.

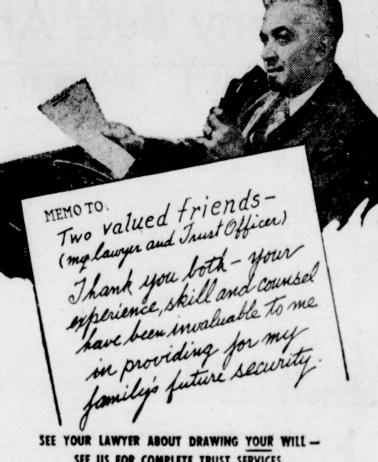

Spotts, according to police, found himself unable to halt the tractortrailer in time to avoid the halted cars, and swung to the right. His vehicle jackknifed and smashed into the concrete stone washer off the east side of the road, destroying a large pipe running from the washer in the process. Damage to the tractor trailer was estimated at $4,300; to the pipe $400 and to the load on Spotts' truck, $300. The driver received minor lacerations of the hand and face.
